Color Overheads Included! This book presents a program of basic studies dealing with the science of oceanography.

Various characteristics of the oceans are described, including features of the oceans, life within the oceans, and different ways of studying the oceans.

Each of the twelve teaching units in this book is introduced by a color transparency, which emphasizes the basic concept of the unit and presents questions for discussion.

Reproducible student pages provide reinforcement and follow-up activities. The teaching guide offers descriptions of the basic concepts to be presented, background information, suggestions for enrichment activities, and a complete answer key.

The Theory of Recreational Scuba Diving: Prepare for Your Dive Professional Exam, Be an Informed Recreational Scuba Diver.

Oct 26 2019 Prepare for your dive professional exam, be an informed recreational scuba diver! Many of you will be preparing for an exam to become a dive professional. This book tells you all you need to know, no more, no less. We will start off easy with a short introduction to the dive environment. Next, we go on with the physics of diving. We have a look at equipment. In the physiology of diving, we will have a look at blood, hearts, lungs, ears, and all the things that can go wrong. Finally, we can bring it together and talk about decompression theory. We did even more. We made an on-line course with videos and many more exercises to help you study. This is also the place where people all over the world taking this course help each other with questions and answers. The facebook page is called easydivetheory.

The Swedish Atheist, the Scuba Diver and Other Apologetic Rabbit Trails Nov 27 2019

We're invited to sit at the table with Randal Rauser as he and his atheist counterpoint, Sheridan, engage in a real world apologetic dialogue. As we follow them down rabbit trails and through personal revelations, we experience a paradigm shift in apologetics—where a familiar quibble over terms becomes a mutual apprenticeship with the truth.
